Nick Lentine's Poultry Setup Near Terra Bella Is One Of Most Efficient In San Joaquin Valley Area

The ultimate in efficient egg production with a minimum of physical labor has been attained by Nick Lentine, Terra Bella poultryman, who now has in operation one of the most efficient poultry setups in the San Joaquin Valley.

Mr. Lentine purchased his four-acre poultry farm in 1947 after spending 20 years in commercial aviation and after accruing some 11,000 hours of flying time, and almost immediately, he began seeking better ways of conducting his new business.

The fact that a small flock of 1800 took at least half of his time did not deter Mr. Lentine from planning an increase of his facilities to take care of from 6,000 to 8,000 birds. Determining that his new building would be the apex in labor saving and ease of operation, Mr. Lentine made an extensive survey lasting for a period of over a year.

Ranches Visited

He visited many poultry ranches, talking to producers, and asking for suggestions. From this study came the compiled data from which his present plant evolved.

As a result, a 507 by 22½ feet poultry building now stands on Mr. Lentine's property. Three nine ton bulk feed bins, together with an eight by eight refrigerated egg storage room, plus egg washing facilities and miscellaneous storage space, occupies the north end. Containing the birds are 60 eight by 16 pens, featuring a six-and-one-half wide connecting alley way.

Rollaway Nests

Welded wire flooring is provided for the pens which have a graduated slope of one and one half inches to the foot. Feed troughs, holding a three day supply, are installed on both sides of the alley way running the full length of the house. Community nests of the rollaway type are located under the feed troughs.

All feeding and egg gathering is accomplished in the alley way through the use of the unique

AN EDITORIAL

There Is No Justification

By Bill Rodgers

Right-thinking citizens can look with only dissatisfaction and disgust upon action of the Porterville Veterans' Memorial District board of directors in seeking to condemn a portion of the Sinarle property on West Olive street as a site for a memorial district building.

Condemnation—the right of eminent domain—should be used only as a last resort in cases where the welfare of the public is at stake.

There is no conceivable issue of public necessity in connection with construction of a memorial district building. The welfare of the community has not suffered in the past because no such building existed; future welfare of the community will not be influenced to any marked degree by construction of a memorial building.

Consequently, there can be no justification for condemnation of the Sinarle property, or any other property, as a site for a memorial district building. Such action represents complete incompetence on the part of the district board and is an admission of the board's inability to negotiate for and secure a building site through the usual methods of business procedure.

We do not have words at our command strong enough to express our contempt for this condemnation action; our contempt for this effort to use the right of eminent domain as a blackjack to bludgeon citizens into selling property that they do not desire to sell.

It is a sad state of affairs when a publicly elected board resorts to this type of steamroller tactics.

$798,000 BUDGET IS APPROVED

The Porterville Union High School board of trustees officially adopted a proposed $798,000 budget set for the coming school year, at a hearing in superintendents office Tuesday evening. No citizens were present to contest the figure.

An increase of $69,017.08 over last year's figure is indicated by the accepted budget. In spite of this, the tax rate will remain $1.10, plus two cents to go toward the retirement of non-certificated personnel. This figure deviates only slightly from the rate in effect for the past few years.

Other Funds

With an anticipated income of local taxes amounting to $353,770.96, the remainder of the budget is expected to be made up by increased income in the form of state-federal aid, and money held in reserve.

Also on the Tuesday meeting (Continued on Page 8)

School Bids To Be Opened August 15th

Opening of bids has been set for August 15th on the five new buildings to be constructed on the Strathmore Union High School campus. Included in the new group will be an administration unit, a structure housing four class rooms, a study-library building, a music building, and a commercial unit.

The plans for the new gymnasium recently completed by architect Robert Kaestner, are being reviewed by the state department of education in Sacramento. Principal D. R. Lightner announced this week that bids will be received on the construction in a few weeks. The new gymnasium unit will consist of two buildings; one serving as the gymnasium proper, and one will be the shower and dressing room.

Glass, which has held up completion of the agricultural shop, has been delivered, and the structure is expected to be ready for occupancy this September.

Highway 65 Route Being Appraised

Property appraisal reports along the new route of Highway 65, west of the Porterville are being completed in the Fresno office of state highway department, it was reported this week by District Engineer E. T. Scott.

Just when actual property purchases will be started was not stated, however, Mr. Scott said that the reports must be approved in the Sacramento office of the highway department prior to property purchase.

Available at present is $100,000 for purchase of rights-of-way, this amount being appropriated following a meeting last week of

Memorial Buildings To Be Opened

September 1 is the tentative date set by officials of the Lindsay Strathmore memorial district to dedicate the memorial buildings located in Lindsay and Strathmore. W. E. Gable, of Lindsay, has been named by the memorial board to supervise administration of both the Lindsay and the Strathmore halls.

With construction virtually complete, board chairman Joe Koells of Strathmore, announced this week that the board is presently engaged in drafting a standard policy in administration of memorial facilities. They expect to have completed the working policy in about ten days.

Two buildings with facilities for civic organization, service club, and veteran's group meetings, comprise the actual working equipment of the district. Both are modern in design, the Lindsay unit being somewhat larger than Strathmore's. It was explained that building size was determined by the amount of taxable property in the respective communities.

Mr. Koells declared that the board anticipates wide use of the memorial facilities by local citizens.

DRAW FOR BUCK

A drawing to select 960 eligible hunters and alternates who desire a chance to bag one of 800 excess deer in the Mineral King game refuge will be held in Visalia, August 28, 10 A. M. Licensed hunters must file applications at temporary headquarters of the fish and game commission in Visalia not earlier than August 24.

HOGS GROOMED FOR STATE FAIR

Seventeen head of Poland China hogs are being groomed by Rolla Bishop at his Monache Farm northwest of Porterville for entry in the California State fair that opens in Sacramento the latter part of August.

Mr. Bishop has entered two senior gilts, six junior gilts, five junior boars and four lightweight barrows. Bill Reece, Porterville, will enter a senior boar pig.

HOSPITAL PLANNING CONTINUES

Planning for eventual construction of a Sierra View District hospital is being continued, inspite of the fact that the district did not receive state and federal funds when the state hospital advisory group met last month, according to Board Chairman C. R. Williams.

Mr. Williams states that the board will utilize a $38,400 planning loan that has been granted the district by the federal government and that the district will go ahead and purchase a hospital site.

Concerning district finances, Mr. Williams says that the planning loan draws no interest and is repayable when actual hospital construction starts.

District funds, raised by a tax last year, now amounts to approximately $45,000. It is from this fund that the district will purchase a hospital site.

Mr. Williams further states that the district plans to levy no tax this year and that bonds, voted at a recent election, will not be sold until state and federal construction funds are actually approved for the Sierra View district.

School Farm Possibilities Are Discussed

Part that a school farm can play in a college program and problems that can be expected to arise in connection with the establishing of a farm by the Porterville Union High School and College district were discussed by J. I. Thompson, livestock specialist, state bureau of agriculture, and Byron McMahon, chief of the bureau of agriculture at a meeting with school officials and interested persons in Porterville last Friday.

The state men approved district plans to establish a farm in connection with a proposed new college campus, stating that at present, state agricultural colleges are crowded. They said that a great problem today is offering practical experience to boys who are interested in agriculture but who do not live on farms and boys who come from highly specialized farms where they do not learn general farm practices.

In general consideration of a school farm site, it was stated that distance from existing school facilities should be as short as possible; that the farm is not to be considered as an experimental station; that the farm probably will not pay for itself, since it is a school laboratory designed primarily for instruction.

That good, uniform soil, typical of the area, is desirable; that only one breed of each type of livestock should be maintained in farm herds; that no horses should

CONDEMNATION SUIT DRAWS ANSWER

Action of the Porterville Veterans Memorial district in filing a condemnation suit, last Friday, on the south 504 feet of the Sinarle property on West Olive street opposite Porterville high school as a site for a proposed Veteran memorial building, this week brought a statement from V. R. Friend, Visalia, one of the Sinarle family spokesmen concerning the proposed condemnation.

The action concerns Mrs. Catherine Sinarle, members of her family and the Sinarle corporation. Directors of the Memorial district stated that they started condemnation after negotiations to purchase the property had failed. Mr. Friend states that no formal offer was ever made by the district; that the family had been informed that the district would not condemn.

In a statement for publication, Mr. Friend said:

"To correct any misapprehension that may have been gained from a recent published news item, I am writing you the following information regarding the condemnation proceedings instituted by the Porterville Memorial district for the condemnation of property owned by the Sinarle family.

SHOPPING AROUND

Susan's Sportswear

Discriminating women with the youthful spirit will be able to find their fall wardrobes of casual clothes in Porterville. Within the next two weeks Susan's Sportswear will be open and back to college shoppers will also find here the clothes they've had to go away for in the past. What's more, the shop will look and feel like a big city one.

I refuse to spoil the surprise by telling you just how it will look; but I know that the store front will be the first of its kind in town. The interior will include special fixtures and decorating ideas never used in Porterville before.

The heating and cooling systems will be entirely concealed and take up no store space. And you will be amazed at the difference it makes to drop a ceiling four feet! Careful paint and wallpaper plans will increase the illusion of width and make the ceiling appear even lower.

The shop will open with a complete and wide selection of fall stock. From there on, Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Planchon will pace their orders to fit your whims. Besides all regular sizes, their stock will include half sizes.

Here is the list of their lines, all exclusive for the area.

"Tailor Maid" blouses, "Graff Californiawear" shirts, "Palmday" shirts, "Monarch" and "Scotch Knit" sweaters, Imported Cashmere sweaters, "Hollywood Premiere" coordinates, "Alex Coleman" blouse and skirt coordinates, "Dan Gertsman" skirts, "Joyce of Chicago" blouses and skirts, "Dale Hunter" spectator sport dresses, "Ro-Nel of California" fall cottons, "Alexander of California" Junior Miss sized dresses, "Ambassador Frocks" casuals, and "Prim Hosiery".

The stock at opening will be exclusively the latest fall fashions. Much of the merchandise will be in corduroy, jerseys, and woolens. Blouses have been bought in cottons, rayons, nylons, and jerseys. The coordinates feature jackets of course, and the sweater

Business Goes Round And Round Customers Come Out Ahead

The businesses in Porterville are off on a fast game of Pussy-Wants-A-Corner. There seem to be more changes in the last half of July and the month of August than in a similar length of time in the last two years.

Lloyd's Food Basket led the parade and has made a roaring, howling success of their move. If the other businesses do as well and make the buying public as happy as the Food Basket has, Porterville will be a big step along its way as the shopping center of the South Eastern part of the valley.

We congratulate the Food Basket on its grand opening and wish the others as much success!

Mrs. Bridge's Shop

Mrs. Florence Bridge, who has had an exclusive women's dress shop in Porterville for 28 years, has decided to retire. She has sold her business to Dorothy Owen of Ducor. Miss Owen, the daughter of the Henry Owen, is exceptionally well qualified to take over Mrs. Bridges' business.

Miss Owen, after she finished Porterville High and J.C. studied at Woodbury College of Fashion Arts Designing. She then took Business Administration courses at U.S.C. and Buying and Merchandising courses at U.C.

Her working experience includes Floor Management and Display Supervision at Desmond's in Long Beach, Sportswear buying at Bullock's Wilshire and later, a job with Ransahoff's in San Francisco. For a time between she designed hats for the moving pictures! During the war, she was a personnel officer in the Navy.

Mrs. Bridge is spending this week introducing Miss Owen to the stores' friends, for the next two weeks she plans a vacation at Carmel. Following that, Miss Owen has persuaded Mrs. Bridge (who didn't seem to be reluctant) to spend a month with her in the store. Retiring completely and suddenly would be very difficult and the lines include long and short sleeves, slip overs and carigans.

Emphasis will be on sportswear and casual clothes. The lines of slacks had not yet arrived when I made my tour, but they are included in the coordinates and the suits I have not yet inspected. You'll love the new fall colors... what fun it'd be to have unlimited clothes money!

plan is that Miss Owen will be able to depend on Mrs. Bridge when ever she needs help.

Brass and Copper Ware Imported from China is still available, but scarce.

Chorophyll Pills Newest Buy

The chorophyll pills described in the August Readers Digest and Time Magazines for July 31 are now available locally . . . when they aren't out. The manufacturers are having a hard time keeping up with the demand, but Claubes' is keeping up so far.

For roughly 90 per cent of the people one or two pills a day will keep odor away! The manufacturers say, "For most people, the pills act in the body to greatly diminish or eliminate noticeable under-arm perspiration odor. Foot and body odors (due to perspiration, exercise, nervousness, and menstruation) are reduced or rendered virtually unnoticeable in 90 per cent of the persons tested. Protection starts in most cases within 2 to 4 hours, and continues as long as 12 to 18 hours or more."

Of breath odor removal the company says, "Tablets dissolved in the mouth bring relief from bad breath due to faulty oral hygiene, halitosis, alcoholic beverages, and smoking. Improvement is noted almost immediately. (Odors from certain foods such as onions, etc., will return unless all undigested particles are removed from the oral cavity.)"

Don't worry, as one man pretends to, about losing your personality by taking the pills. I've been testing them and so far my dog chums have had no trouble recognizing me. My best friends, however, have not hesitated to tell me that I don't offend . . . as advertised, though, they hesitated to remark before I took the pills . . . at any rate they never did remark.

I hope kids will not be lulled into a false security by all this and think they can now smoke behind the garage without being caught! Be warned, your breath is only one of the ways parents can tell when you've been sneaking a smoke! That is a secret you get in on when you become an adult and I am not going to tell it. You'll find out when you get there and then you'll want to keep the secret from the next generation.

So far I haven't been able to find out how many crates of spinach, lettuce or cabbage we'd have to eat a day to equal the amount of chorophyll in a pill, more than we could hold, I'll bet. I'll tell you if I ever find out . . . boom local gardening.

RESCUE

Rodgers Moore, supervisor of the first district, telephoned to The Farm Tribune to rescue the fish planting boys. After the story appeared on these pages last week explaining that the men couldn't find out how to collect their pay, Mr. Moore called in the 'dope.

Seems the supervisors have done all they can in the matter—the money is budgeted—provision is made to pay the bills when presented. And that's the catch; the bills had not been presented, since someone slipped up a little, so the affair does not involve action by the supervisors.

Fishier

Fisherman told of coming across a fellow angler in the mountains one day who seemed to have pretty good luck. It was still way early in the morning and the lucky one had his limit and was going into camp. My reporter was amazed and said so. Knowing how cagey fisherman are about good spots, he felt it hopeless to ask for directions. Instead, he complimented the wise one on his knowledge of the streams and added that he hoped some day to be so wise. He was told that there is nothing to it! Just get on the planting crew and next week-end you're sure to get the limit right off!

Shopping . . . with Betty

By Betty Scott

On one of those 112 degree days . . . a friend called my attention to a busy bee hive, standing right out in the full sun. We marvelled and she added that she understood about the flowers and the birds all right, but that the bees beat her. Me too! Whole scheme of nature baffles me! I'm perpetually surprised that we all turn out with our ears on our heads and our hands on our arms and that dogs bark and cats meow. More startling that we have learned so many ways to defeat the system! Discovering the chemistry of a "liquid permanent wave" left me goggle eyed. Only thing more wonderful than the natural scheme is that it allows for man to defeat it! Call 107-W, FLORENCE PEAK'S BEAUTY SALON, and get one of her Zotos Liquid Waves . . . you'll be surprised and thrilled besides.

Went to Three Rivers with two archaeology students last Sunday. Main thing I learned is that the ford used by the diggers working on the Indian sight is seat deep on me! Nice cool river, beautiful water, lots of it and wet! Fortunately PROCTOR'S CLEANERS can press my slacks back into shape and with their "Retex" process even make them look good! Knowing I wouldn't have to buy new slacks, I spent my money on the local apple juice . . . thank heaven for Proctor's and free "Retexing" . . . I sure love cider!

I did learn a little more . . . the soil at the excavation was wonderful. With water, the Indians could have raised crops to stagger you. One of the scientists and I discussed the difficulty of burial, considering the scarcity and primitiveness of the tools they've found. Explains why the graves were only a couple of feet deep! Lot of us could raise staggering crops if we had enough water. It's silly to worry along in the pre-historic fashion when you can do something about it. Call 400 and get MR. JACKSON, THE PUMP MAN, to tell you about his tip-top Johnston Turbine pumps for all needs. Get the best from your land, get the best pumping tool for the least money.

Heard about a man the other day who's on a rampage. He says people park for hours in the 10 minute zones in front of the P.O.!! All I can say is that if he can prove it . . . he'll prove that we have a much of geniuses around here! We know we have a lot of smart people. I learned more for example of Jeff's baby picture success secrets! True he has a nack with little kids; but he also has a special camera and lighting system! The camera is timed to 10/1000 of a second and there are no glaring lights . . . result: You always get at least six perfect proofs! Call 1385-J and have your baby photographed at EDWARD'S STUDIO on So. Main . . . you can park free there!

Tuesday, the cloudy day, made me conscious of the great extremes we have here, not only in temperature . . . in light and glare too! That day was much brighter than most winter days, yet I used a lamp at 2:30 in the afternoon! We forget in the summer how dull/winter can be and we wait til winter forces us to do something and then it's hard to get the job done. This is the time to have new light fixtures put in, nobody wants that kind of work going on in cold weather! See Bob Mishler at THE PORTERVILLE ELECTRIC, across Hockett from the rear of the P.O. He can see that you have the largest and finest selection of fixtures to choose from.

Got a letter from my brother who is in the army, permanently; he's no kid so he wasn't too pleased that he'd been assigned a year ago to go back to college and get a Master's degree in business. This letter is the first since the Korean War and made fun of himself when he said it didn't look like they'd take him out of college. He remarked that he hadn't known until the war arrived how much he yearned for an M. A. in Bus. Adm.! Suddenly, he adores college! We're all that way. It took the last war to make me realize how much I need cheese. Sugar I never miss, but spiced meats and cheeses I was about ready to commit crimes for! Discovering the ITALIAN CASH GROCERY on W. Olive has made me perfectly happy to stood in Porterville the rest of my life. If things get tough, I'm willing to sweep out for them to get cheese scraps! It's a perfect, one stop place . . . groceries plain and fancy, and wines, beer, and bottled goods too.

Dull, cool days instead of making me energetic make me want to curl up and snooze and read . . . must be part bear! This last week I told Marie I'd like to investigate her library; BREY'S BOOK SHELF, 600 N. "D" lends books and also orders for you. "Diamond Wedding" is a historic western about a mountain man of Colorado in the '50s. The title comes from the fact that he and his wife celebrated what would have been their 75th wedding anniversary by getting married! "Monsoon" is a story designed to excite your imagination and haunt your memory with its tales of life in India. There's plenty of excitement with the hero alternately outcast and praised. Geo. Johnston who wrote that, also wrote "High Valley" with his wife, Charmian Clift. This "High Valley" is about life in Tibet. "Rustics In Rebellion" is a reprint of a newspaper reporter's account of the Civil War as seen by a southern soldier; accurate, thrilling. "Red Bone Woman" is about life in the South today and is built around the mystery of the "Red Bone" people of the Louisiana swamp land . . . nobody knows who or what they are!

Don't weep on my shoulder about how it rained mud on your washing; I got smart and took mine to Bob Clouette's BENDIX HALF HOUR LAUNDRY and got it back all dried and ready to use!! Fastest and bestest washing I even had and cheap too! 35c including soap for 9 lbs. of wash and 3c a lb. for drying. Besides I knew my things were washed alone, not mixed with anyone else's. No more wash days for me, I'll let him wash and dry my things while I go gossiping! Free parking at 3rd and Oak too.

in the "Jimco", one of three sport fishing cruisers owned and operated by the Pacific Trollers. It required an elapsed time of three and one half hours to reach the trolling area 35 miles out. During the ensuing four hours, the eight fishermen aboard landed 53 albacore totaling a weight of more than 1,000 pounds. The party docked at 3:45 P. M.

"The albacore is one of the fightingest fish there are", described Mr. Lowe. He disclosed that experiments have estimated the speed of the albacore to be from 40 to 50 miles per hour at the moment they hit the feathered jigs on the ends of the trolling lines. "In addition to being one of the fastest fish", said Mr. Lowe, "They are truly considered to be one of the most sporting."

Mr. Lowe added that the "Jimco", as well as the other three cruisers operated by Pacific Trollers, was equipped with the latest developments of radar and radio pharaphanalia available for commercial use. In addition to trolling activity, the sport cruisers may be engaged for deep sea fishing.

Camp Nelson Pays Respects To Charles Smith

Friday evening, July 21, cabin owners and visitors at Camp Nelson, gathered at Soda Spring to dedicate the newly constructed Soda Springs pavilion to Charles Smith. The illness which unfortunately kept Mr. Smith in his cabin and from the ceremony did not prevent his hearing of the strains of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow", rendered by the respectful group.

It was pointed out at the dedication that everything connected with the new Soda Spring edifice had been done out of deep regard for Mr. Smith. Materials had been donated, labor had been given freely, and needed money contributed readily. Everyone wanted to have a part in the Nelson and Smith family memorial.

After accepting a gift for Mr. Smith from those residing in Camp Nelson, Clarence Bradford, of Terra Bella, told the story of how Camp Nelson came to be. He related the saga of Mr. Nelson, who, on one of his trips across the mountains to Visalia in 1884, saw the beautiful valley, now known as Camp Nelson. Mr. Bradford went on to tell of the Nelson's homesteading the area. He described the marriage of Mr. Nelson's daughter, Emma, to Charles Smith in 1891, and how they and their son Nelson built the cow and sheepman's camp into the delightful community it is today.

In addition to Mr. Bradford, the program for the evening consisted of a group of trumpet selections by Richard Lant of Porterville, a tap dance by Alice Danielson of Lindsay, two vocal solos by Mary Jane Tourtillott Stassi accompanied by Carla Mae Tourtillott, both of Porterville, and a vocal selection by Ray Holloway. Mrs. A. B. McKinnley of Pond, furnished piano accompaniment for the community singing led by Paul Robinson and Ray Holloway.

Following the program, artist Tillman Goodan set up his drawing board and entertained everyone by his sketching of cowboy characters for the children.

A vital part of Camp Nelson life for every one of the sixty years he has lived there, Mr. Smith is now the postmaster, and hasn't missed a day on the job, despite the weather or the state of his health.

Abundant Sugar Supply Assured To Homemakers

The nation's homemakers need not worry about the sugar supply. According to a department of agriculture bulletin, not only is sugar plentiful, it is so abundant that there is a law to keep too much of it from being imported into the United States.

The law, called the Sugar Act of 1948, is in effect a wall to keep overabundant supplies of foreign sugar off the domestic market. Under the terms of the legislation, the Secretary of Agriculture is required at the end of each calendar year to determine how much sugar consumers will need in the continental United States during the next year. The secretary's decision is subject to change any time during the year should conditions appear to warrant.

This means that the secretary of agriculture can open the gates when ever the domestic sugar supply situations indicate a shortage exists. The sugar inflow will be increased from bountiful producing—and fortunately quite close by, Cuba, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and other areas.

Here at home, the department of agriculture reports that domestic sugar beet production will be the largest on record, and that the sugar cane crop is about a third larger than average.

PORTERVILLE FARM VIEW

Friday, October 30, 1891

The new chemical engine for the Porterville fire company, arrived last week. Saturday afternoon, a practical test was given the engine. A fire was started on Main street and after being allowed to make considerable headway, the chemical spray was turned on and the flames were quickly reduced. Another test was made Tuesday night. The engine was brought here to be tried, and if satisfactory, the commissioners were to purchase it.

Trustee, P. P. Davis, visited the school last Friday evening, and tendered all the pupils an invitation to a dance to be given by him at his hall, that evening. About 7:30 o'clock, the streets began to be lined with children, little and big, and considerable amusement was created by the gallant boys escorting the little ladies, arm in arm, to the dance.

Excellent music was rendered by Miss Clemison, pianist, Mr. S. Ballard cornetist and Mr. E. S. Reichard, violinist. The strains of the grand march struck up at 8 o'clock and the children were soon in line. Prof. Turner's class taking the lead and little Earl Berkeiser and Pearl Mahaffey, bringing up the rear. The next number on the program, was a quadrille. The little folks were placed in position and assisted through the figures by Messrs. Lane, Murray, Ford and Gardner.

All went merry as a "marriage bell" and at 9:45 the children were all united and Prof. Turner said: "Children, you have all enjoyed yourselves, and for this evening's entertainment, you are indebted to the munificence of Judge Davis; I now propose three cheers for him." Three cheers were given, and no heartier cheers ever greeted a victorious politician. One waltz more, and the children's dance was over, and most pronounced success it was.

The little ones then retired from the floor and the ex-school children enjoyed a dance till 12 o'clock. The adults who were present, enjoyed the panorama presented by the children, much better than they could have enjoyed a dance.

While at Los Angeles, we met several old Tulareans, among which were ex-judge Clark and Dr. Stevenson, formerly of Visalia. Claybourne Wright, a former highly respected and well to-do citizen of this county, is driving a water cart on the street. J. C. Hoy, formerly city marshal of Visalia, is boarding with the sheriff. He will soon take up his residence at San Quentin.

Don't forget when in Porterville, that John Loyd at the Arlington will give you a first class meal for 25 cents.

Captain Dorst and company, who have been stationed at the Sequoia park this summer to protect the giant forest, will soon go to the Presidio at San Francisco for the winter. Valiant soldiers, Good-bye. Who will protect the lumber monopoly now?

The tea made from boiling eucalyptus leaves is said to be beneficial for people suffering from malaria trouble.

Reports from the foothills say that bears are coming down from the mountains in large numbers to feast on the acorns.

Harry Quinn, one of the largest sheep owners in Tulare county, living near Poplar, intends raising tobacco for the purpose of making sheep dip.

Capt. Jacob Hayes of Poplar, has taken his trotter, Strathway, to Stockton, to give him a chance to lower his record on the kite-shaped track. His present record is 2:20.

Wednesday, while the Tulare stage was enroute to Porterville, the horses became unmanageable and ran away. A sewing machine which was in transit, was thrown out and slightly damaged; otherwise nothing was injured.

Work has begun on the new Springville schoolhouse. It will be built on the old site.

STRATHMORE V.F.D.

With a brand new building serving as their headquarters, organization of the Strathmore Volunteer Fire department is proceeding. The 10 firemen, headed by their chief Ted Isles, will soon undergo special training given by Ike Halstead of the state division of forestry.

"Y" PACK TRIP

The second "Y" pack trip this summer will take place August 11-13th under the direction of Bob Gregory, assistant "Y" secretary. Plans for this trip will be made the evening of August 9th at a meeting to be held at the "Y" Center in Visalia.

FINS-FUR-FEATHERS

• By PHIL THE FORESTER

Buck season opens in the coastal area next Monday with hunting conditions and success expectations somewhat better than last year according to wardens who provide the following detail: Fresno, Fair, bucks in good condition. Kern, fair to good. Best hunting areas in Mount Abel, Frazier and Lebec districts.

Mariposa, fair with best hunting near Yosemite Park. Merced, fair with much private property posted. San Benito, very good and deer in excellent condition. San Luis Obispo, fair to good. Queen Bee area good. Additional hunting area in Los Padres Forest open for first time to permittees.

Santa Clara, very good. Many bucks in the foothills but most all ranches posted. Stanislaus, fair with best hunting near Yosemite Park.

Back country fishing now is tops with but few takers for the many trout that are available. Just returned from the Quaking Aspen area in Tulare county and saw only two fisherman. State Fisheries Biologist Bill Dill and party of wildlife officials had just left the area.

Bill reported trout plentiful except right in the few camps and stated a great deal of the area had been unexploited by fishermen with little or no evidence of their presence in a great deal of the territory.

Over 100 miles was covered by the party including these major fishing spots that were classified as wonderful fishing: Little and Big Kern, South Fork of Kern, Nine Mile, Coyote, Golden Trout and Red Rock creeks and the Kern and Little Kern lakes. One youngster in the party, a novice fisherman using a broken down outfit and fly caught trout as fast as he could toss the lure and turned back many fish, the largest being a sixteen incher.

Trout fishing conditions at lower elevations are bound to be good in these areas that have just been planted with catchable size "put and take" trout: Shaver Lake, South Fork of the Kings River near Cedar Grove, Main Kings near North Fork junction, Middle and South forks of the Kaweah, Middle for of the Tule, South fork of the Middle fork of the Tule and the North fork of the middle fork of the Tule, Peppermint Creek and Deer Creek by California Hot Springs.

Lower Klamath River sources report limit catches of salmon being taken averaging better than twenty pounds. Large schools of fish including steelhead can be seen working just off shore and indications point to a good season.

Mineral King refuge in Tulare county will be open to deer hunting on a controlled basis starting September 16 but in as much as applications will not be accepted before August 24, we'll skip the details until later. This action was taken by the fish and game commission late last week. It also abolished the Kettlemen Hills Refuge but this means little as most of the property is private and posted as such.

Stripped Bass, Trollers taking numerous limits of medium size fish off Crockett.

Quail and doves plentiful in the Madera foothills according to wardens.

Red spider mites are appearing on walnuts and building up very rapidly. Growers are urged to treat early to prevent the excessive damage and defoliation which we had last year. TEPP dust or DN dust have given good control. Further information may be obtained at the farm advisor's office.

overhead monorial. A specially designed feed hopper with a capacity of 1000 pounds of feed obtained from the storage bins, is moved along the monorail, filling the troughs automatically to within two inches of the top as it goes. Mrs. Lentine is enabled by his ingeniously designed feed distributor to complete the feeding operations of his 8,000 birds in 15 minutes.

Cooling System

The eggs are gathered four times a day, and the entire gathering, cooling and packing process takes about three hours. As they are gathered, the eggs are sorted, the dirties being separated from the cleans and washed.

In addition to all the features described, "it's cool inside". Two water pressure pumps pour out a fog spray through a distributing system located three feet above and two feet to the sides of the eaves. The mist is blown by the prevailing wind over and through the house, thus successfully meeting the problem of keeping the birds cool on a hot day.

Mr. Lentine, a member of the San Joaquin Valley Poultry Producers association, figures that the entire cost of the set-up was $1.75 per bird.

be included in farm livestock; that probably one board member should be responsible to balance of the board for farm operation; that a farm should have a foreman, who actually runs the farm under direction of agriculture instructors, thereby giving teachers a maximum amount of instruction time.

Some provision should be made, it was also stated, for individual ownership of projects on the farm, although it was pointed out that this phase of the program should not be overdone.

Attending the meeting from the local area were: Board Members Emory Kincaid, Vernon Gill and Mrs. Fannie Williams; School Superintendent Charles W. Easterbrook and Mark Borror, Fred Williams, Bill Rodgers and Darrell Byers.

agenda, bids for the purchase of obsolete transportation equipment submitted by a Fresno man, were rejected on the grounds that the world situation and an anticipated record enrollment warranted keeping the buses for at least 60 days longer.

Bids Asked

In addition, the board authorized advertising for bids concerning the construction of new tennis courts. It was moved that specifications, subject to revision, be prepared from the old tennis court plans.

Superintendent Charles W. Easterbrook left Wednesday for the University of California and the bay area to complete interviews of prospective additions to the Porterville high school and college faculty.

By August 15, Mr. Easterbrook hopes to have negotiations in hiring of the 12 replacements and eight additional faculty members virtually complete.

"Best Possible"

In an effort to locate the "best possible" teachers, Mr. Easterbrook has traveled throughout the state the past few weeks, visiting the campuses of Stanford, UCLA, USC, San Jose State, and other teacher sources. Shortages do exist in certain fields, observed the superintendent, while others are crowded to capacity.

Mr. Easterbrook disclosed that Dino Spigarelli, the newly hired college football and basketball coach, will arrive from Kansas around August 15th.

The winter wheat crop is expected to total 710 bushels in 1950, the smallest crop since 1943, principally because of the reduced acreage, although yields per acre will be less than average.

Condemnation

"The writer, with other representatives of the Sinarle family, met with the Memorial District board last November for purpose of clearing up any misunderstanding that might have come about due to many rumors during the summer of 1949 regarding the acquisition through condemnation of the Sinarle property for Memorial building purposes.

"As I have been one of the family spokesmen and one of the three people who are legally authorized to represent Catherine Sinarle in any negotiations in reference to the above mentioned property, I went into great detail in explaining that Mrs. Sinarle and her late husband had lived there continually for the past one half century and at no time had any of the property been for sale, further that she was a woman of 77 years with failing health, that she had been greatly worried and agitated regarding the rumor that she would be forced out of her home.

"I further stated it was the desire and wish of her sons and daughters to have their mother pass her declining years undisturbed in her home. I informed the board that Mrs. Sinarle had transferred other holdings to her children in the past two years and she had expressed a desire to give to her children home building sites on what is known to them as the home property.

"Also that the front property was in the process of being zoned as commercial property, and, with the increased taxes that would result, the Sinarles would like to develop it to enable them to meet the rising costs, that they wished to do this in January of 1950 but due to the rumors, it would be impossible to obtain desirable commercial tenants or plan future homes.

"The board at this November meeting passed a resolution to the effect that they would not acquire the property without consent of the owners, thus meaning they would not condemn. They were thanked for their action by the writer in behalf of the Sinarle family.

"Our natural assumption was we could carry out future planning of the property and in line with that thinking, the property, since January 1, 1950, has been laid out in 15 home sites and deeded to her respective children; streets laid out and graded; easements given to the electric and gas companies for the future service of the tract.

"One new home has been built by a daughter, a well drilled and a large pump installed to serve both the residence lots and the frontage on Olive street which has been zoned commercially and a modern service station built and leased to a major oil company under a long term lease. This service station will be in operation about August 15.

Tickets Moving For Fresno Sports Show

Selected members of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's Association began selling tickets, this week, for the second annual Central California Sportsmen's show and festival to be held in the Fresno Memorial Auditorium, September 6 through 10. Four hundred tickets is the goal set for local vendors.

Meanwhile, G. W. (Phil) Philpott, the show's manager, announced that details for the production are moving swiftly to completion. Hundreds of items for the outdoorsmen, many of them being shown for the first time, will go on display.

Among the premier showings is a "Castle in a Duck Blind", a brand new watertight concrete duck blind with a full revolving adjustable seat, a metal rain-proof hood, screen camouflage shooting lid, heater, radio, shells, extra clothing, duffle and most anything else the hunter desires to have with him.

The U. S. Forest Service, the California Division of Forestry, and the California Division of Fish and Game, are scheduled to install unusual displays for the show.

Plans are being made to conduct a "Huck Finn" fishing contest for the kids in the large pool to be constructed in the auditorium. "Smokey", the forest service black bear and symbol of forest fire prevention will make a personal appearance throughout the show.

as one of the most modern and best planned in the Porterville area as to streets, alleys, lot sizes, etc.

"At no time has this board told us what acreage they wanted or location of acreage, nor have they even made an offer for the purchase of this property to any representative of Catherine Sinarle or the Sinarle corporation.

"The Sinarle property owners are confronted with a condemnation suit without any warning whatsoever, in which it is proposed to ignore our planning, cutting across easements, surveyed and deeded lots, streets, and cutting the aged mother's home in two, leaving her a small portion of her house. Maybe the Memorial board does not think this would be disturbing to the aged mother. It is very possible they would not wish their respective mothers or even members of their family to be confronted with this problem.

"The Sinarle family feels that it has cooperated to the fullest extent and to say the least, that the Memorial board has not acted in good faith."

Members of the Veteran Memorial district board are: Robert Serbian, Aubrey M. Lumley, Jr., Bill Harris, Reuben Gilliam and Willard Wall.
